TEACHERS' INSTITUTE HELD AT HALFMOON BAY ENJOYED BY ALL

For the second time in the history of this county, the Institute this year, was held in Halfmoon Bay, beginning last Monday. The teachers reached there by the Ocean Shore Railroad, by auto-stage, and private conveyance.

Those who went there on Sunday evening enjoyed a delightful trip, as the weather was perfect and the sunset was more beautiful than usual.

Going to Halfmoon Bay made many of the teachers say, "How Dear to My Heart are the Scenes of My Childhood," as they began their careers there. The town has a reputation for the teachers it has sent forth.

The only drawback was some difficulty in finding accommodations, but with the hotels and private homes, resting and eating places for all who wished to remain there were found. At the close of the three days' stay all united in proclaiming that they had been entertained with genuine hospitality. Henry Hall, Jr., the principal of the Halfmoon Bay school and his committee are particularly deserving of congratulations for the successful way in which they met all demands.

The sessions took place in the assembly hall of the Halfmoon Bay grammar school which was tastefully decorated with evergreens and dahlias.

Otis M. Carrington opened every session with excellent singing. By so doing he pleased all and besides gave musical instruction, that will help out in all the schools for another year.

The Institute was called to order by County Superintendent Roy W. Cloud in a few cheereing words to the teachers. Dr. W. A. Brooks of Halfmoon Bay extended a warm welcome to all the teachers, saying that all the charms of the coast from the sea-shore to the mountain tops were theirs to enjoy. Mr. Cloud responded for the Institute.

W. L. Glasscock of the San Mateo high school spoke on Compulsory Education, telling what the state expected to be done.

Physical Education was discussed and exemplified by Miss Winifred Van Hagan. Her talks set a large number of teachers to playing different games during their recesses.

Dr. H. W. Foght of South Dakota discussed the Rural Teachers and their Communities, as he had observed them in different parts of the United States and in Denmark. He was glad to assert that conditions were improving everywhere, but he condemned the making of necktie holders in our manual training schools. He thought that time and money might be spent more efficaciously in making articles of greater value and more interest.

Thrift in Schools was discussed by Mrs. John L. McGinn, director of savings for this county. She said that $10 was expected from each individual as an investment during this year.

Sedley C. Peck, of the San Mateo high school, gave an account and vivid experience, during and after the war. His talk was the loyal expression of a true American and he was listened to with tense attention. No other speaker made a greater impression.

The reception and dance given in the assembly hall, by the people of the town on Monday evening was a notable affair. A high-class orchestra of several pieces supplied the music. The floor was in perfect condition. There were many young men and a few old men, dancers, present, so the many beautiful ladies, the teachers, had such a jolly time they will always remember it. On Tuesday Lawrence E. Chenoweth, the county superintendent of Kern county, spoke entertainingly on "Community Service; Miss Maude I. Murchie on Home Economics, and Mark Keppel of Los Angeles on Teachers and Schools.

Tuesday afternoon was spent on the clean, white sand of the Halfmoon Bay beach. The sun shone bright and warm and everyone was well pleased.

Tuesday evening, in the moving picture theatre, Harr Wagner and Otis M. Carrington, all alone, gave his operetta, the Windmills of Holland. Both greatly pleased their audience.

On Wednesday Miss Bessie McCabe of the San Jose Normal School discussed How to Teach Reading and the "Royal Road" was the subject upon which Dr. William McAndrew of New York gave the teachers a royal treat. The gist of his talk was for everyone, especially teachers, to be good-natured at every turn, so that they may always do their work in a royal way. He made a new joke for the coast by telling of a scolding person so homely that when she looked at the mirror it broke, when she looked at the clock it stopped, when she looked at the milk it soured and when she looked at the 'artichoke' it choked.

Quite a spirited discussion took place concerning the organization of the teachers of the county into a permanent body. Finally it was decided to organize, at once, by electing a temporary president and secretary. Miss Anna I. Haley of San Mateo was elected president and B. E. Meyers of Redwood City was elected secretary. It was carried that the temporary president appoint a committee of nine to act with the president and secretary in formulating a plan for complete organization and that this committee report to the teachers at some suitable place, on November 15. The committee was not named as Miss Anna I. Haley was not present.

The comimttee on resolutions recognized all who had contributed to make the Institute such a great success.

Superintendent Roy W. Cloud, in words of gratefulness closed the Institute and the teachers bade him farewell with generous appiause.

AN AMERICAN FIRST MEASURE

"The Smoot bill levying prohibitive tariffs on foreign merchandise 'dumped' in the United States is a step in the right direction with the foot firmly planted," is the assertion made by the Republican Publicity Association Wednesday, in a statement given out through the President of that organization, Hon. Jonathan Bourne, Jr. The statement continues:

"Senator Smoot is a Republican who knows how to put a wallop in legislation. There is no quibbling or dodging issues or academic wrist-slapping about his measure. Any competing nation which attempts crooked merchandising in the markets of the United States goes up against a tariff rate that will put it to sleep in he first round. And dumping his crooked merchandising when it is practiced as it has been in the past by certain European governments, particularly Germany.

"There is a wide distinction between dumping and marketing in foreign commodities in the country of their origin. Take shoes for example whose styles are changing from year to year. The manufacturers find that they have over-estimated the domestic market and a surplus remains on hand which they must dispose of, so they market them abroad at what they can get, usually at prices below those secured in the home market. But the home people are not hurt by that. Or a surplus of hosiery may be marketed abroad at reduced prices with a view to establishing a trade in that market. Or, if the manufacturers deliberately produce a surplus for foreign trade the home-folks are not injured, but on the contrary, they are benefitted, for this means the operation of the mills at maximum capacity, which insures minimum unit cost; more jobs for the workmen greater consumption of raw materials. Lower unit cost, under a system of fair dealing, of course means a decrease in the price to the home consumer.

"But the German system of 'dumping' which has also been practiced considerably by the British in the past, is to manufacture for the express purpose of stifling infant industries in foreign countries in the cradle. For example, when our textile industries were started years ago, the Manchester textile manufacturers inaugurated a campaign of price-cutting in the United States calculated to kill the industry here. They raised a huge sum of money for that purpose. They sold cloths at prices far under those demanded of English buyers at home, and, more than that, the losses sustained by this campaign were recouped by adding to the home prices to the English consumers. And the Germans have done the same thing in chemicals and machinery. A year or so before the war American sewing machines were finding a foothold in Latin American countries which greatly perturbed the German makers. They sent their salesmen into those countries with instructions to give away, if necessary, the German machines until the American machines were driven out of the field. The expenses of that campaign were decovered by increasing the home prices, and when the American business had been driven out of the Latin American countries, the price of the German machines was raised to a point which would cover all past losses. This is crooked merchandising and an offense against economic law. Those who engaged in it have no standing in equity and are not entitled to any sympathy when they find themselves barred from our market by a prohibitive tariff.

"It is to be hoped that Senator Smoot's bill fill receive the support of the entire Republican majority in Congress, but that it will receive the approval of Mr. Wilson is extremely doubtful, as he remains a free trader despite the lessons taught by the war. When both the Administration and the Congress are Republican protection to American industries will be assured, and not until then."

DESIGNED TO PROTECT AMERICAN MANUFACTURERS

There is a bill before congress to prevent the shipping of dye stuffs into this country from Germany. It is hoped the bill will become a law. We are interested locally for the local dye works cannot compete with the dyes made in Germany owing to the cheap labor in the latter country. This infant industry should be protected by the government. If a good stiff tariff is put on this product the Redwood City institution is certain to be successful as the quality of its product is equal, if not superior, to that produced in Germany. By all means let a high tariff be placed on all dye stuffs.

IS GAMBLING PERMITTED?

It is alleged that gambling is permitted in full blast in the north end of the county. Those responsible should close all gambling dens in the county no matter where they are located or else be exposed. The name of our fair county should not be desecrated with such a stigma.

SAN MATEO COUNTY IS MECCA FOR HOME BUILDERS

San Mateo county is going ahead by leaps and bounds. It is the natural outlet of San Francisco and peopel desiring homes will come down the peninsula rather than cross the bay with all its dangers and delays. The peninsula is destined to be known as the county of beautiful homes. No place in the state furnishes a better investment than San Mateo county. A few dollars invested in real estate will bring the investor rich returns.

Judge John E. Davis of San Bruno presented and read a petition signed by J. H. Dennis and fifty-nine other residents and taxpayers of the town of Colma, asking the board to appoint a fire commission of three members for a new fire district that is to be formed at Colma. Resolutions accompanied the petition in which the names of L. Nava, Anglo Stampanoni and E. C. Williams were recommended for appointment of commissioners.

On motion of Hickey, seconded by Brown, the petition was received, and the three men recommended in the above resolution, were ordered named as the fire commissioners.

A resolution empowering the town of Colma to equip and maintain a fire department was adopted, on motion of Hickey, seconded by Brown.

Supervisor Brown addressed the board at this time in the matter of the construction of a parallel road down the peninsula on the east side of the Southern Pacific railroad track which had been considered by the board several years ago and for which former County Surveyor James V. Neuman was named with the supervisors of the First, Second and Third townships as a committee to negotiate for right-of-ways. On motion of Brown, seconded by Hickey, the name of the present county surveyor, Geo. A. Kneese, was substituted for that of Neuman.

Supervisor Hickey addressed the board and stated that he had received a bid for building the screen porches at the county hospital and on his motion, seconded by Brown, Donaid Mackenzie, superintendent of the court house building, was directed to proceeed with the work.

The usual monthly claims, having been passed by the finance committee were ordered paid, on motion of Brown, seconded by Thompson.

THE UNIVERSAL CAR

Look out when having your Ford car repaired that the genuine Ford parts or materials are used. There are many "bogus" imitations, or counterfeits, so-called Ford parts of sadly inferior quality on the market. Be warned against them. Buy Ford parts and have your Ford car repaired by the authorized Ford dealer as this is the only way to guard against "bogus" parts. Bring your car to us for service. Come to us for Ford parts. MENLO PARK NEWS OF ALL SORTS

Doings at Peninsula Garden Spot As Told in Breezy Style By Our Reporters

On Saturday, October 11, the Wm. Warren School and the Palo Alto Independents clashed in a wonderful game of football, the good old American game. Both teams were evenly matched each having a well developed offensive but a weak defense. During the first half Warrens did not fight as they were expected for their size. During the second half started by J. Leonard's wonderful run when he caught the ball from the kick-off. From that time Warrens fought so hard they strenghtened their defense and wore the Independents out so that when they had the ball, short intervals would elapse before it was put in action again. The final score was 38 to 25 in Warren's favor. The opposing team could not think that the winners had a snap to capture the winning points, as both teams were waging a continual battle throughout the entire game.

Herbert and Mortimer Fleishhacker have bought M. H. Tichenor's interest in the Palo Alto Stock Farm. The corporation began operations about three years ago, devoting attention to the breeding of high-grade cattle—Guernseys, Holsteins and Shorthorns. All the cattle that remained on the Vina ranch and Durham ranch were bought about a year ago and transferred to the Palo Alto Stock Farm, making the herds the largest of any in this part of the state. The farm became a noted stock center under Techenor's management. He has not announced his plans for the future, but expects to remain in Palo Alto.

The fire department was kept busy during the week answering calls. It was called out three times on Sunday to subdue grass fires in various places in the fire district. The department was called several times during the week. It is doing splendid work.

Twenty-two of the young people of this vicinity have organized the Runnymede Social club, and will proceed to give a series of dances and entertainments. The constitution has been drafted and will be voted on at the next meeting of the club. The officers of the club are Cecil Lammiman, president; Violet Simpson, vice-president; Frank Davis, secretary; William Bancroft, treasurer, and Heber Eperson, sergeant-at-arms.

The base hospital is doomed to go. A telegram was received last Saturday by the commanding officer from Washington, stating that the institution would be abandoned within two months. During the week a number of employes were discharged. It is believed by the first of the year all the buildings will be removed. There are about 300 patients at the hospital at present and about 200 employes. Several months ago the department was petitioned by the citizens here and at Palo Alto to abandon the hospital on account of the tuberculosis patients confined there. Architects were at the institution for the past three months preparing plans for a number of new permanent buildings to cost several hundred thousand dollars. The telegram of abandonment came as rather a surprise.

William Wood, assistant agent at the Southern Pacific depot here, for the past five months, was united in marriage at Santa Cruz Sunday to Miss Marie Sousa, a pretty Sacramento girl. The young couple will reside at Sacramento. Mr. Wood has resigned his position here.

Mr. Anton who recently bought the Bordeaux place at Stanford Park, has bought another ten acres across the street. He intends to raise chickens by the new method.

About 80 mules remaining at Camp Fremont were shipped to Camp Kearney during the week. The animals were at the camp for two years. They did not get to the front.

John MacBain returned from his trip to Montana and Canada late Monday evening. He and Supervisor Joseph M. Francis were entertained while in Montana by Colonel Galen. The visitors were presented to the governor, supreme court justices and other high officials. They were shown every courtesy by the chief executive and his staff. They enjoyed the trip coming home by way of Canada. Mr MacBain was glad to get home to enjoy some of California's sunshine. While north he encountered blizzards and blinding snow storms. Mr. MacBain and Mr. Francis are more enthusiastic about San Mateo county than ever before.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Irving have purchased property in Stanford Park and, with Mrs. Irving's mother, Mrs. Meta Stevens, will make their home there. Irving is a Harvard man and was a first lieutenant in the Rainbow division. He is now in the employ of Hunt Brothers of San Jose.
